LAVISH SPENDING SHOULD STOP, SAYS EMMERSON

Highway Funds Not Meant for Vote "Buying," Candidate States.

SMOKE SCREEN TO BE REMOVED

Chicago, Ill., March 1.—Plunging into his active campaign for the Republican nomination for governor, Louis L. Emmerson today declared that "it is time to call a halt upon the bolstering up of political autocracy by lavish expenditure of the taxpayers' money and to demand a non-political and economic highway construction policy."

His formal statement was as follows: "We expect to place squarely before the voters in every county these questions:

"Do you want a continuation of the present wasteful, extravagant and politically corrupt administration of state affairs for another four years, or do you prefer a sane, economic and responsive government for which you need not apologize?"

"Do you want your road funds used, as they have been, in an effort to buy the voters of entire communities, or do you prefer highway construction based upon the best interests of the whole people?"

Remove Smoke Screens from Issues
These are vital issues of this campaign and we do not propose to allow them to be befogged by any smoke-screen of falsehood or misrepresentation, no matter from what source.

"State appropriations for the present biennium reached the enormous total of $263,295,763, of which $182,178,671 is exclusive of revenue and bond issue re-appropriations. This is an actual net increase of more than $11,000,000 over the appropriations for the previous biennium, and of this increase nearly $5,000,000 is for salaries and wages of regular and extra employees. For $5,000,000 it is possible to employ 1,000 additional employees at an average monthly salary of $200.

Army of Employees
"Nothing has transpired in the state government in two years to warrant any addition at all in the number of employees, to say nothing of this great army."

"A report of the state highway department to a legislative committee shows that 77 per cent of the money expended for highway maintenance during the biennium ended April 1 was paid out in salaries and wages. Less than 23 per cent actually went into material and construction."

"The $30,000,000 bond issue system of roads cost, not $27,000 per mile, as officially stated so frequently, but $40,000 per mile."

Call Halt on Expenditures
"It is time to call a halt upon the bolstering up of political autocracy by lavish expenditure of the taxpayers' money and to demand a non-political and economic highway construction policy."

"I have no illusions as to the character of the campaign which will be waged against me. If I had, they would have been dispelled by the attack made upon me a day or two ago by the chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. His charges and insinuations, so far as they relate to me are absolutely untrue. All state money in my keeping has been handled with the strictest honesty and scrupulousness and anyone who makes any insinuations to the contrary tells what is not true."

"This is the first time I have known the Democratic organization to take so much interest in a Republican primary. The reason, however, is apparent. They hope to prevent my nomination for governor because they believe that in the event of my nomination there will be no chance for Democratic success in the fall."

"I fear neither Democratic nor Republican vilification. The Republicans of Illinois know me and I am willing to trust my cause with them. My cause is their cause."

BURNS PROVE FATAL TO MOTHER OF SEVEN

Mrs. John Neilsen Died on Wednesday From Burns Received.

FUNERAL TO BE SATURDAY

Burns received by Mrs. Dorthen Neilsen at her home near Antioch, when she poured oil on coals in an attempt to rekindle a fire, proved fatal. After thirty-six hours of semi-consciousness, Mrs. Neilsen died in the Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan, 2 o'clock Wednesday morning.

In her desire to quickly rekindle a fire in the kitchen stove Mrs. Neilsen placed kindling on the smoldering fire and poured kerosene over the wood. Immediately there was an explosion, throwing flames over the body of Mrs. Neilsen, causing severe burns on her face, neck, body and arms. The flames were extinguished by a son who was present at the time of the explosion, thus saving his mother from a much worse fate and preventing the spread of the fire to the house.

While the attending physicians knew that her burns were very severe, it was at first thought that she would recover. She was taken immediately to the Victory Memorial hospital and was under the care of Dr. George Callahan. She suffered a relapse Tuesday afternoon and passed away early Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Neilsen was widely known in Antioch and her tragic death has brought sorrow to the hearts of her many friends and acquaintances. She is survived by her husband and seven sons: Chris, Kjeld, Oscar, John, and Holger of Antioch, and Nels and Robert of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held at Hickory from the M. E. church Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. S. E. Pollock officiating. Burial at Hickory cemetery.

SECOND ELECTION WILL BE HELD FOR SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Voting Hours Not Legal in Last Election—Investors
Refuse Bonds.

Contending that the district school election held here on February 4, was illegal, bonding companies have refused to accept the $45,000 in bonds voted at that time for the purpose of building a new grade school building for Antioch. The feature of the election objected to by the bond buyers was the voting hours, 5 p. m. to 9 p. m. when the voting should have been done between the hours of 12 noon and 7 p. m., according to a law pertaining to this had been passed at a recent session of the Illinois legislature.

Call Second Election
Because of this seemingly insignificant technicality it will be necessary to hold another election, therefore voters of the district will have another opportunity to express themselves on the matter on Saturday, March 10, when the polls will be open from 12 o'clock noon until 7 p. m. as prescribed by law. At the election Feb. 4, the proposition carried 101 to 22, and it would seem that the forthcoming election will be only a matter of form to make legal the decision of the people to have new school for Antioch.

Bonds Attractive to Investors
Lively competition featured the opening of the bids for the bonds on Feb. 20, as many investors realized the attractiveness of the 4½ per cent tax exempt securities. Halsey-Stuart & Co., 205 So. La Salle st., Chicago, were the successful bidders, the concern offering a bonus of $1160, assuring legal counsel for the district in the matter of finances during the life of the bonds which are to run until 1942.

ANTIOCH FIRM TO EXPAND BUSINESS

Harris & Poulos, of Antioch
Cafe, Will Establish Modern Bakery Here.

Another bakery will soon be doing business in Antioch, according to announcement this week by D. Harris and T. Poulos, of the Antioch Cafe, who have leased the John Pincel building, next door to the cafe, where they are installing a modern bakery equipment. This building will also house their ice cream parlor and soda fountain, which will be moved from the cafe. The present rooms will be devoted exclusively to counter and table restaurant service, and the two rooms are to be thrown into one large eating establishment, where over 150 may be served at one time.

The new room is being re-arranged and decorated and a first-class bakery equipment has been purchased and will be installed and ready for business soon.

Volunteer Fire Department Was Kept Busy This Week

The Volunteer Fire department has been kept busy this week answering calls in and around Antioch. Monday at noon they were called to Salem when fire broke out in the general store of Louis Johnson. No great damage was done and the fire had been nearly extinguished before the boys arrived.

About seven o'clock Monday evening they answered a call to the John Nielson farm about 3½ miles east of Antioch. This fire was started by the pouring of kerosene on smoldering coals by Mrs. Dorothy Nielsen, causing an explosion and fire. While the fire did little damage to the house, it brought tragedy to the home when it ignited the clothes of Mrs. Nielsen causing burns which resulted in her death Wednesday morning.

Thursday the tool house belonging to the Soo Line railroad caught fire in some unknown way and burned a quantity of tools stored there and damaged a hand car also. The house was practically destroyed. The boys were on the scene but the fire had gained such a head way it could not be extinguished.

A truck from Chicago caught fire Saturday afternoon a mile south of here and the fire department was again called out. Sugar was the cargo, being transported from Chicago. This was destroyed, and the truck badly damaged.

CITY BRIEFS

The largest order for the cleaning and pressing of clothes was received by John Trusch of the Antioch Cleaners and Tailors last week. This order came from the Allendale School for boys, consists of ninety-two suits and caps and is valued at $1500.

Mr. Trusch says that in sending the order here a great amount will be saved, because of the damage usually done by moth when these suits are packed away while not in use. These suits are used by the boys for dress up occasions.

CARRELL-KUBLICK CONCERT-DRAWS RECORD CROWD

Varied Program and Novel
Instruments Please Large Audience.

An eager and responsive audience greeted Mrs. Bertha James Carrell, singer, Wednesday evening at the Methodist church, when she appeared with Henri Kublick, violinist, and Mrs. William Ziebler, organist, in concert here.

A program of vocal and piano selections by Mrs. Carrell was first rendered. Her voice is soprano of sweet quality. She was her own accompanist on the piano. One song "An Old Fashioned Street" was particularly liked. One cannot, however, name any outstanding selections on the entire program because every number was so well chosen and rendered that it would be difficult to name the ones most enjoyed. From the opening song to the closing number, a negro song, sung especially for her mother, she held her audience.

It will be interesting to know that Mrs. Carrell and Mr. Kublick had never played together until Wednesday evening's performance. They had had only four hour's practice previous to the concert which is remarkable, when one considers the intricateness of the instruments played by Mr. Kublick.

The instruments played were novel because of their peculiar construction. The zither, of native Austria, was the object of comment because of its rather plaintive tones and Mr. Kublick's apparent pleasure in producing music of his native land for the amusement of an American audience. He played the "Stephanie Gavotte" and "Humoresque" followed by a "Jazz" number, thus comparing the two types of music on this instrument of the old country.

Their repertoire was wide and varied and pleasing to a wide range of tastes of music lovers. A medley of old tunes on the zither and piano by Mr. Kublick and Mrs. Carrell and other selections on the same instruments accompanied by the pipe organ was received enthusiastically by the audience.

Another novel instrument presented by Mr. Kublick was a combination banjo with the tone and volume of three banjos. This is an invention of Mr. Kublick which he has been working on a number of years and according to his statement is still unperfected.

The concert was given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church. The proceeds from the sale of tickets will go to their society.

Asks to Be Relieved of Director Job—Will Aid Emmerson

Lake County Man Will Get Support of Small Opposition.

William J. Stratton, director of the state department of conservation, has quit his post, according to statements from Springfield Wednesday. The resignation will become effective at once, it is understood, and a formal statement from the governor's office is expected today.

Stratton, who was one of Small's appointees, and long a friend of the governor, is candidate for secretary of state on the republican ticket. It is quite generally understood that Stratton's candidacy did not meet with the governor's approval, the chief executive, through political alliances with Wm. Hale Thompson, et al, favoring the candidacy of Judge Robert Gentzel, for state secretary. Stratton will receive the support of Emmerson, Lowden and Deneen. Mr. Stratton will be opposed by Charles Vail and Carl Mueller, both Chicago candidates.

Small Double-crossed Stratton?
Circuit Judge Claire C. Edwards left the Small-Thompson organization because of Judge Gentzel's being the secretary of state candidate. Instead of Stratton Judge Edwards charged that Governor Small had double crossed Stratton and that as a result he has released the organization in Lake county from any and all obligations to him.

Meanwhile, Gov. Len Small already sensing defeat by Louis Emmerson for the republican nomination for governor at the primary April 10, is working the hard roads racket to a very thread-bare frazzle. Thousands of miles of hard roads have been virtually promised for completion during the year; more, it is said, than can possibly be built during the remainder of 1928. As a vote-getting piece of propaganda the hard road noise has been a winner for Small, but to make it a political issue for a third term for Len is too much.

Illinois demands hard roads, and the completion of the routes authorized under the state bond issues, and they will be constructed under any administration without the repulsive ingredient of politics being injected into the program," says opponents of Small who feel that a change in administration is the thing most needed in this state.

Reorganization of Fox Conservancy District May Be Voted on Soon

Move on Foot for Redrafting of Boundaries and Election in June.

Plans for reorganization of the Fox River Conservancy project have been started, according to the report given after a meeting of the Fox River Valley federation held at Geneva on Saturday.

There will be a redrafting of boundaries, including a large portion of Lake county, a petition for election and an election of judges. It present plans for the reorganization are begun. The election would probably be held in June.

A written decision has not been received from Judge Fulton as yet, but is expected soon, according to J. C. James, former trustee of the Lake county district. After having been in operation for sixteen months, the conservancy plan with its purpose of sanitation and the beautification of the Fox river district, was declared invalid in an oral ruling by Judge Fulton.

Cultivate Alfalfa To Increase Yields

One of the greatest difficulties in successful alfalfa production is caused by weeds and grass-crowding in and smothering the alfalfa, thus shortening the life of the seeding a number of years and lowering the yield per acre, says a bulletin from the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. This difficulty can now be overcome by the use of improved alfalfa cultivators recently developed. These cultivators tear out the grass and weeds but not the deeper rooted alfalfa and at the same time loosen the soil around the crowns and roots, letting the air penetrate the surface soil to stimulate growth of the plants and make them more resistant to drought and winter killing.

Many successful alfalfa growers are now cultivating their alfalfa in the spring and after the first and second cuttings, says the bulletin, with a gratifying increase in tonnage per acre.

E. B. WILLIAMS WRITES FROM MELBOURN, FLA.

Melbourne, Fla.
February 24, 1928

To The Antioch News,
Antioch, Illinois,
Greeting

First I wish to apologize my delayed acknowledgement for your fine Christmas gift, as at that time my right hand was disabled by a severe strain. However, I have at all times been able and eager to welcome the weekly arrival of the home news with its items of home news and good cheer.

We expect to be here about two months. The weather today here is like late May or early June at home. Much of the country in Florida have suffered by frosts which killed tender plants but no frosts to do damage in this vicinity.

We have had the pleasure of seeing many home people here, as they pass through. The Antioch visitors in this vicinity are all well as far as we know. I think they like it here in winter, but from May to November there is no place like Home Sweet Home, Antioch Illinois.

Sincerely yours,
E. B. WILLIAMS.

Union Free High School

The 1928 Echo is facing financial failure as a result of the small number of books which are being sold in advance. It is necessary to sell two hundred copies in order to make the publication a success.

The regular high school basketball season will close Friday evening with the game with Genoa City. The boys will spend the week attempting to devise a defense to stop the scoring attack of the Genoa giants. It is possible that another game will be booked with Union Grove, as well as with Kenosha's lightweights. The games will mark the last appearance of Captain Memler, George Richter, Roy Madden and Chet Runyard on the high school team.

A free throwing contest is to be conducted next week to decide the championship of the school. All boys are eligible to enter, and the contestant scoring the greatest number in fifty attempts will be declared winner. Champions in each class will also be decided.

The girls' gym class has begun to play volleyball as soon as the girls learn the game. A tournament will be held.

Dickens' Churlishness

Sudden illness or some such emergency may have caused many people to send "regrets" in response to a White House invitation. Charles Dickens, the famous English author, is remembered, however, for featuring his visit to the United States with a curt "It does not suit my convenience" in reply to an invitation from President Tyler to dine at the White House.

The World a Chessboard

The chessboard is the world; the pieces are the phenomena of the universe; the rules of the game are what we call the laws of nature. The player on the other side is hidden from us. We know that his play is always fair, just and patient. We also know to our cost that he never overlooks a mistake or makes the smallest allowance for ignorance.—Thomas Huxley.

American Legion Notes (By the American Legion)

The Eighth District of the American Legion is making great strides according to its Commander, Edw. J. McGeogh, in the matter of Graves Registration.

All of the 14 posts in this county have had the following cemeteries assigned to them: Highland Park, Mooney, Fort Sheridan, Fort Sheridan, Great Lakes, Great Lakes, Grayslake, Avon Center, Druce, Oakland, Grayslake, Fort Hill, and Grant; Wauconda, Buffalo Grove, East Side, Lake Zurich, Lathrop, Oakdale, Volo, Volo (Catholic), Wauconda, Wauconda (Catholic), Libertyville, Lakeside, Half Day, Long Grove, Diamond Lake, Evanston, Severn, Fairfield, Waukegan—Benton, Lake Mound, Millburn, Mound Rest, Mount Olive, Mount Olive, Oakwood, Pine View, Rosecrans, St. Mary's, Spauldings, Spauldings Corners, Union, Wadsworth, Waukegan, Warren, and Zion City; Hixwood, Lake Bluff, North Chicago—North Shore, Deerfield—Wheeling and Deerfield; Antioch—Antioch, Greenwood, Antioch—Hillsdale, Catholic, Hickory, Mt. Rest, and Fox Lake; Lake Villa—Angola and Sand Lake; Lake Forest—Lake Forest, St. Mary's and Everett.

Each Post has appointed a Graves Registration Committee which visits the cemeteries assigned, checks over the graves of veterans not only of the World War but of all wars, and makes report on forms provided to General J. Garrity of the Insurance Exchange Building of Chicago, who is the General Chairman for this work for the American Legion.

To show how important this work is, the records in Chicago showed only five graves at Fort Sheridan, where, as a matter of fact, there are over two hundred.

General Garrity proposes issuing a book to all Veteran organizations some time prior to Memorial Day which will show the location of all Veterans' graves in all cemeteries in Illinois.

A call has been issued to the county by Edw. J. McGeogh, Commander of the 8th District, American Legion, to assist in forming the many new Posts that are requesting recognition.

Wauconda was organized early in the fall and shortly thereafter Lake Villa. Both of these are live, active Posts and taking an active part in the affairs of their community.

Accurate statistics are not available, but it has been reliably reported that there are nearly ten thousand ex-service men in this county. Last year, of this number about nineteen hundred belonged to the American Legion.

It is with the thought that there are many communities in the county that have many ex-service men but no Post that this call has been issued because with the many branches of work in which the Legion is engaged no ex-service man can well afford to remain out of the Legion. The only reason that many do not belong is that they are located in places where there are no Posts. This call will result, no doubt, in many communities requesting recognition.

However, the American Legion does not discriminate between the member and the non-member. Any ex-service man applying for relief or assistance is given it cheerfully with no questions asked.

The Department of Illinois maintains service offices at Chicago and East St. Louis, Ill., at a cost of many thousands of dollars yearly, where service is given to the ex-service man. Statistics of these offices show that over 90% of the men applying for and receiving relief are not members of the American Legion.

Newlyweds Drowned in Honeymoon Auto

Portage, Wis.—Death's hand interrupted a honeymoon shortly after the wedding bells had ceased to ring.

With old shoes dangling on their car, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Piel of Marshfield, Wis., were taken from a pond in the Portage city park recently. The bridegroom's hand clutched the wheel of his automobile and his bride of a few hours had her arm about him.

In the fog and rain of the night Piel apparently missed the turn after crossing the Wisconsin river bridge at Portage and the automobile plunged over a 15-foot embankment. It landed upright in the pond and the water just reached the top of the car.

Madman Slays Son

Los Angeles.—Overcome with a "mad desire" to slay his child, Matt Minarich, forty-six, admitted he had strangled his eleven-year-old son, John. After the killing, Minarich called neighbors and led them to an arroyo where he had thrown the body.

Sizes of Planets

The naval observatory says that the smallest of the major planets is Mercury; diameter about 3,000 miles. Of the minor planets or asteroids, some are so small that it is impossible to measure their diameters. It is estimated that the smallest are less than 10 miles in diameter.

BRISTOL WOMAN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Farewell Party is Given For
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond
Pofahl.

Mrs. Edward S. Fox met with an auto accident recently while driving to Bristol about one half mile south of Bristol. Only a short time ago, she and her husband met with a similar, though more serious accident, while enroute to Bristol. Her car was struck by a driver from Libertyville, who claims not to have known of the accident or damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pofahl, who recently moved into their new home, gave a dinner Sunday evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of their son, Ralph, and also a farewell party to their son, Raymond, and wife, who are to leave soon for North Carolina. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vanderman, Racine, The Albert Higgins family, Kenosha, The Freeman Higgins family of Pleasant Prairie, and Edwin Pofahl. An oyster supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fuhrer of Lake Villa were recent visitors at the Vansey home.

Mrs. Tom Garlund is rapidly recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jarnilo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Maleski Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Monroe of Chicago were week end guests at the Edmund Pike home.

Dinosaurs Traveled

The Smithsonian Institution says that the bones of dinosaurs are not confined only to the western states. They have been found in Connecticut south through New Jersey, Maryland, District of Columbia and South Carolina, then along the Gulf to Mississippi, Alabama and Texas. Most of the specimens are found in the West, beginning at the plains country.

TAKE CARE OF SPRING PIGS

One of the most important factors in successful and profitable hog production is raising a large percentage of the pigs in litters farrowed. When proper sanitation measures are not observed the mortality among little pigs often runs as high as 25 to 50 per cent, materially increasing the cost of producing pork. The use of sanitary hog barn equipment and houses which offer adequate protection against cold spring weather will aid greatly in raising a high percentage of the young pigs says the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. If possible, the new crop of pigs should be raised in a lot which has not been used for hog raising for a number of years in order to prevent round worm and chlorella infection. In any event, the hog house equipment should be of steel, concrete or similar construction which can easily be disinfected and which will not harbor disease germs of any kind. Portable houses which are placed in a new pasture each year should also be scrupulously clean and disinfected before the spring pigs arrive.

Ventilators Reduce Barn Fire Hazard

Adequate ventilation of the dairy or stock barn is one important safeguard against fires, according to the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. If the barn is not properly ventilated, moisture often collects on the roof and sides of the barn during cold weather, causing water to drip from the roof to the loose hay in the mow and creating favorable conditions for spontaneous ignition. In a well ventilated barn, however, the moisture laden air from the livestock is carried off without condensation, keeping the barn dry and at an even temperature. Extensive tests by practical dairymen and agricultural college experiment stations have also proven that a well ventilated barn is necessary if high producing dairy cows are to be kept in good health.

Seek Camphor Secret

Botanists are seeking to learn the secret of why one camphor tree will produce solid camphor, and another, although similar in appearance only, camphor oil, which is far less valuable. The Chinese have kept the secret for centuries, and the Japanese, who discovered it in 1895, are also closely guarding it, for to lose it would be to surrender Japan's camphor monopoly.

Advantage of Ignorance

The ignorant have one great advantage over those who know; they can be certain. Certainty decreases at the same rates as knowledge grows. Our ancestors, who know little about the past could feel certain that the little they did know was all that was worth knowing. Today we know, comparatively, a great deal about the past. We are, in consequence, much more tolerant, much less cocksure than our fathers.—Aldous Huxley in Vanity Fair Magazine

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"REALITY" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, March 25.

The Golden Text was from Philippians 4:8, "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "It is the spirit that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life" (John 6:63).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which he creates is good, and He makes all that is made" (p. 472).

Churches

Methodist Church Notes

The people of the community were very liberal in their praise of the church for bringing to Antioch the wonderful program of music which was presented by Mrs. Bortha James Currell and Prof. Henri Kublick of Chicago. The church rejoices in the wonderful response by the people for the support of the best in music. Critics said it was the best program offered in Antioch in many a day and will be long remembered.

Even as music plays a large part in the social life of man so it does in religious life of man. The Methodist church is fortunate in that it can provide for this need during the services of worship. At the morning worship the chorus choir of 15 voices will sing the anthems which are so much enjoyed, next Sunday will be no exception. Director Pollock has promised the best.

The sermon theme "God's Way of Salvation" will help settle that age long problem you have been giving some thought to. Come and learn one solution to your problem.

During the evening service Mrs. Homer Gaston and Mrs. Tarnow will sing soprano duets known to you. Again the sermon will hold rightful place as in the morning worship. To attend worship at least once on the Sabbath equips you the better to meet practical problems throughout the week. Have you read what President Roosevelt had to say along these lines.

Also you will find a place in the Sabbath School.

STATE CAPITOL ITEMS

Death of a wide swath in the ranks of Illinois state officials recently when four men closed their careers.

Lee O'Neil Brown, picturesque politician and veteran Illinois legislator was drowned in the Fox river at Ottawa when he accidentally fell from a 30-foot retaining wall along his estate into the rapid current and his body was swept downstream for quarters of a mile.

Less than 15 minutes after the accident the body was recovered and for more than two hours physicians, firemen and first aid squads labored in a desperate effort to save him.

Mr. Brown has served continuously in the Illinois assembly since 1900, and from the beginning was in the midst of nearly every battle waged on the legislative floor.

In 1921, Brown was a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor but was defeated. He was a native of Illinois, born in Earlville, Ill. 1866 and graduated from Illinois State Normal University at Normal and Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington where he received his law degree.

More than 1,000 people, including members of the Illinois House and Senate, gathered at the funeral at Ottawa.

Frank H. Tuttle, chief clerk of the division of highways and supplies of the state department of public works and buildings, died at his home in Springfield, Ill. a few days ago after a weeks illness. Mr. Tuttle was appointed to office by former Governor Charles S. Deneen and organized the division of highways and supplies. He had been a resident of Springfield for the past twenty years.

Deputy J. Egan, affectionately known as "Daddy" to neighbors of the 20th ward in Chicago, and for many years a powerful figure in Cook county democratic politics, is dead. Mr. Egan had been nominated as a delegate to the Houston convention this year. He also served three terms in the state legislature.

Charles W. Morgan, building inspector of the state department of public welfare, died in Wilmington recently. Mr. Morgan went to Wilmington several weeks ago on an inspection trip. He became ill while at the Soldiers' Widows' Home and what was termed intestinal influenza developed into pneumonia which resulted in his death. Mr. Morgan has been employed as building inspector by the state for the past several years.

The voters of Illinois are promised a warm political fight when the show down comes on April 10th in the primary.

The daily press insists that the following lineup will prevail among the Republicans: L. I. Emmerson for Governor, John G. Oglethorpe for Fred E. Sterling for Lieutenant Governor, Otho F. Glenn for United States Senator, Oscar E. Carlstrom for Attorney General, William Stratton for Secretary of State, Omer S. Custer for Auditor constituting the so-called Lowden-Deneen-Emmerson-Carlstrom group, and for what is termed the Small-Thompson-Frank L. Smith ticket appear the names of Len Small for Governor, Fred E. Sterling or John G. Oglethorpe for Lieutenant Governor, Frank L. Smith for United States Senator, John Bailey for Attorney General, and Robert E. Genzel for Secretary of State, with endorsements for Treasurer or Auditor.

The democratic party has not encountered a great deal of opposition in its ranks up to the present time and unusual harmony appears to prevail. Floyd E. Thompson of Rock Island is slated for Governor, Peter A. Waller for Lieutenant Governor, William B. Meyerine and Bert C. White for Secretary of State, George W. Alschuler for State Treasurer, Thomas J. Courtney for Attorney General, George F. Schirring and Wm. O'Rourke for State Auditor.

The field of candidates for Congressmen at large is a big one particularly for the republicans. Eight republicans have filed petitions as follows:

Richard Yates, Springfield, Henry R. Rathbone, Kenilworth, Ruth Hanna McCormick, Byron, W. H. H. Miller, Champaign, Charles R. Harris, Herrin, A. T. Spivey, East St. Louis, Walter H. Wood, Chicago.

Three democrats are ambitious to be Congressmen at large: C. D. Joplin, Murphysboro, C. F. Brown, Chicago; and Wm. O'Rourke, Chicago.

Wm. F. Brooks, Auburn, credited with establishing the first rural free delivery route in Illinois 34 years ago, has just celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday anniversary. Mr. Brooks has been a resident of Auburn for more than seventy years. He served as postmaster under the administration of Grover Cleveland, and during his term as postmaster he established the first rural free delivery service.

Construction of the Chinkapin hard road probably will become a part of the state's construction program of 1928 and a public hearing will be held with regard to its location within a short time.

This important and encouraging bit of information was given to a

Springfield delegation which conferred a few days ago with Governor Small, Col. C. R. Miller, director of the state department of public works and buildings and Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer. The stretch is a continuation of Walnut street, Springfield, north to Central, where it connects with the Peoria hard road, and is nine miles in length. It cuts off approximately four and a half miles of the Peoria hard road is destined to relieve traffic congestion from the Chicago and Peoria hard roads through Springfield.

One hundred and eighty-two miles in Illinois produced a 596,291 tons of coal in January, according to a report just issued by A. D. Lewis, director of the state department of mines and minerals as compared with a production of 8,391,428 tons in January, 1927.

Franklin county produced the largest amount of coal, having 1,465,185 tons in her crop.

Bonding power of municipalities of the downstate section is two and one-half per cent on the value of taxable property.

The bill passed by the house of representatives and signed by Gov. Small becomes effective July 1. The new law which was supported by the Illinois Agricultural Association was necessary to meet a decision of the state supreme court which in effect, would have placed the entire downstate of a bonding power basis with Chicago which is five per cent.

The Illinois Municipal League, which favors a higher bonding power, will urge an amendment at the next session of the legislature on the ground that they need more money with which to continue public improvements. The measure although quite important to all municipalities, is very brief.

One hundred and fifty men and women received their law diplomas from the state supreme court a few days ago. After the class was presented to the court, the oath was administered by Chief Justice Heard and the address was made by an association justice.

After the diplomas were presented by Clerk Charles W. Vall, a meeting was held at the Leland hotel in Springfield where an address was delivered by Professor A. H. Kent, of the University of Chicago law school, and Paul M. Angle, secretary of the Lincoln Centennial association. His subject was "The Emancipator." President Ruth C. Edwards of the Chicago Bar association, and Wm. Sexton, Chicago, were the speakers at a luncheon given by the State Bar association.

Bids were received by the division of highways, department of public works and buildings, for approximately 100 miles of state highways on February 29, together with heavy grading and bridge contracts.

The hard road sections included under the letting are located in Clark, Clinton, Franklin, Cook, Lee, LaSalle, Stephenson, Henry, Tazewell, Woodford, Saline and McHenry counties.

Contracts for heavy grading were received for work in Henry, Wayne, White, Saline, Johnson, Pope, Franklin, Monroe, St. Clair and Tazewell counties.

Bridge sections included are in Grundy, Cook, Kane, Lee, LaSalle, Carroll, Adams, Wayne, Franklin, Saline, Johnson and Tazewell.

While the reports from 1,480 of the leading employers in Illinois indicate a decline of 2.1 per cent in employment during January, favorable information regarding orders attest that industry will probably follow its usual course during February and that conditions will improve.

This is the conclusion reached in the review of the Illinois Department of Labor for January, just issued by Director George B. Arnold.

The January employment decline he says, is not indicative of a further decline in business activity. A drop for the first month of the year is usually looked for and regarded normal.

Prospects are good in the metal and woodworking industries, with additional workers employed. Automobile establishments also reported a gain of 2.6 per cent in employment during the month. In the coal mining industry of the state a gain of 5.7 per cent in the number employed is reported. There are approximately 61,000 miners working in the state at present.

Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom has given an opinion in which he holds that the county clerk of Morgan county is not bound to extend municipal taxes of real estate on certain real estate at Waverly in 1900. The land was excluded from the city of Waverly under an act of the legislature in 1879; repealed in 1901.

Douglas county is to receive from the state highway department $1,000,760 as a refund from the state for the construction of hard roads that were built by the county. The money is to be used to build secondary roads connecting with main

His words sounded through the hall of the big office building in a high, clear soprano which made both John Harden and his son Ralph, look up startled and amazed. Then as "merry gentlemen" sounded further off John Harden thought: "It's a good thing that woman didn't come in here today. That 'merry gentlemen' must be a joke over at his son's who are looking at his desk."

"If it is a joke, why don't you let me hear it?" he thought. "Money troubles of some kind I suppose, and I'd help him out if I could only tell me. Troubles enough of my own but not about money. If a million dollars would remove this threat of madness, I'd pay it to a minute."

"Let nothing you dismay" came the clear, high voice again and Ralph thought:

"How can I help being dismayed with a pile of glowing debts I'll never get out from under? Father suspects me. I know, for he looks plain all the time and keeps his hand over his eyes so much. If he'd only ask me, maybe I'd have the courage to tell him."

As the singing voice passed the other men, Harden growled, "Tell that girl to hush up or go away!" Then the office door opened and the words "merry gentlemen" made both men look up, impatiently. But, in stead of a bold young woman—stood a scrubby newshy, saying: "Collectin' for the Times. Circulate in mornin's so busy he sent me."

"Where did you learn to sing?" asked Ralph.

"St. Luke's choir. We're practicin' for Christmas. Get fifty cents a Sunday and I get a dollar Christmas. Cause I sing a solo. Gee, it's look for Dad's been sick and if it goes on this way, I'd never get clothes for school. Whatta think? Got five dollars out o' choir money saved for a new overcoat."

"Here's another toward it," said Ralph, "and I hope your father gets well."

"Thank you!" exclaimed the boy, pocketing the dollar. "Gee, I hope he does, too, 'cause he's all the family I got. He works in a factory where the light's bad, and sometimes his eyes go wrong."

"Couldn't he work somewhere else?" queried Mr. Harden.

"Yep; there's a grand place goin' to be vacant at the paper-box factory, where there's hardly any eye work, but there's so many after it—"

"Well," said Harden. "I know Mortimer, who owns that factory. I'll give you a note to take him. What's your father's name?"

"Albert Wickens, and he's all right! You tell 'em I said so—known him all my life, an' I recommend him."

Presently Harden looked up, saying, "Here's the note, and a dollar for your New Year's greeting in advance. Don't forget to come in with it—it's paid for, remember!"

"You bet I'll come! I'd get a handsome tickle if my Dad ever heard o' my beln' crooked! I'm proud o' my ole man an' I want to make him proud o' me."

With that, the door slammed, and the young voice was heard caroling down the hall.

The two men looked at each other, speaking simultaneously: "Son! I have something to say—"

"Dad! I have something to tell—"

Then, with half-embarrassed amusement, they both laughed, heartily.

"I guess there's a good deal we have to tell each other," said John Harden. "I propose that we get a private room at the club and have some lunch and talk things over."

"Great!" said Ralph, rising to help his father with his coat. "I'm not looking forward, exactly to what I have to say because I'm ashamed of it, but it'll be a relief."

"Nothing you can tell me will be as bad as this estrangement has been," replied his father. "If it's anything I can help you about—"

"It is, and if you'll straighten me out this time, I know I'll never get in such a hole again. When that kid said, 'I'm proud o' my ole man, and I want him to be—'"

Ralph choked and stopped, but by this time they were in the outer hall, so John Harden simply took his son's arm and pressed it affectionately.

WHEN PROMOTERS USE "CHARITY" TO DECOY TRUSTFUL CONTRIBUTORS

Investigations of Various Schemes for Defrauding Public Out of Money Disclosed by Bankers Association—Many Kinds of Fake Industrial Promotions Used as Bait.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE

Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

MILLIONS of dollars raised under the disguise of charity go to line the pockets of promoters. Ticket sales on raffles are commonly used, and while the loss to any one person who buys a ticket is small the aggregate loss for the United States runs into millions of dollars. Usually the promoters of these schemes first make a contract with some charitable institution to conduct a campaign for funds on behalf of the institution. They are to run the campaign in the name of the institution and share the proceeds. The whole scheme is often one of deception. To those who have been led to believe that their contributions go practically 100 per cent to charity, the following case we investigated should prove illuminating.

A number of promoters recently contracted with a charitable institution to put on a campaign to raise funds by the raffle of a new automobile. So far as the public could tell from the banners used in displaying the automobile, the full amount of the sale price of the tickets went to the institution. There was nothing to convey any other impression. Apparently it was open and above board and was being conducted by men who were contributing their time gratuitously.

For several days a new automobile, mounted on a truck, was driven up and down the streets, with banners telling about the drive for funds for the charitable institution. One day the truck would go by displaying one of the popular makes of automobiles. A few days later it would parade by displaying some other popular make. Periodically the truck would pull into the curb where it would park for several hours while the promoters pleaded with passersby to take tickets on the raffle and thereby help a deserving charitable institution to meet its bills.

Thousands "Touched" Thousands of people, touched by the appeal for help, bought tickets, the total sale running into the thousands of dollars. Contrary to the belief of the ticket buyers their contributions did not go 100 per cent to charity. Instead the charitable institution received but 26 cents on the dollar, the promoters getting 52 cents on the dollar as their net profit, or twice the amount received by charity, while the remainder of 22 cents on each dollar represented the amount charged against gross sales by the promoters as expenses.

In other words, every person who bought a 50 cent ticket for the sake of charity, contributed but 13 cents to charity and 37 cents to those promoting the scheme. Whether you give to charity or make an investment it will pay you to get the facts!

Unfortunately there is a general impression abroad that wildcat promotions are confined to oil, mining and new inventions. The truth is, many stock selling promotions are operated under the name of other industries.

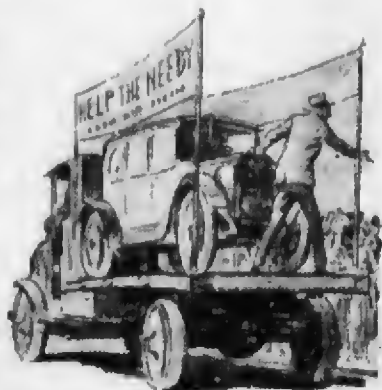

False Claims A certain group of promoters investigated offered for sale stock in a proposed woolen mill. In order to sell the stock they resorted to the use of misrepresentation and false claims. After renting space on the ground floor of an office building fronting on a busy street they began their campaign. Orally and by printed advertisements extravagant claims were made for the proposed corporation which were grossly false.

WASHKOWSKY'S OLD SHOE

We call the attention of the American Bankers Association to the case of Mr. Washkowsky of Brooklyn. Mr. Washkowsky is hard working and thrifty, but like so many of us his education is defective; who is to blame for that we don't know. Mr. Washkowsky has been saving a part of his weekly wages for a long time, but hadn't told Mrs. Washkowsky where he was depositing his nest egg. That was a mistake, probably, but an inquiry into it belongs to another branch of education with which it is probable the bankers association cannot be held to have any concern.

But with Mr. Washkowsky's depositary it has. He chose for that purpose an old shoe. He kept the shoe and its mate in his closet, and up to the other day had tucked away in one of them savings amounting to $350. On that same other day Mrs. Washkowsky, rummaging Mr. Washkowsky's closet like a good housewife, seeking what she could throw away or transfer to another place where Mr. Washkowsky couldn't find it, as is the habit of good housewives, found this same pair of old shoes. We suppose she said to herself, Mr. Washkowsky not being present to have it said to him, "Isn't that just like a man!" and acting thereupon just like a woman she sent the shoes to the cobbler to be repaired. It was either that or the ash barrel for them, and being frugal and Mr. Washkowsky paying the cobbler bills anyway, she sent them to the cobbler.

A distraught man was Mr. Washkowsky when he next went to make a deposit in his old shoe. "What new motors had not been connected with any mills for over twenty years and they had attempted at different times to promote mills, all of which had failed. One of the promoters represented that formerly he was president and general manager of one of the largest woolen mills in Canada. The fact was the mill referred to had gone into bankruptcy and he had been caretaker of the plant.

This story of misrepresentation can be duplicated in practically the whole industrial field, and because our industries are being exploited with intent to defraud, it behooves every investor to investigate carefully. He should consult his banker before drawing his savings out and losing them on some wildcat investment.

place," he asked in that martyr tone affected by husbands on similar occasions, "have you found for my old shoes?" Mrs. Washkowsky told him, expecting to be praised for her thoughtfulness. Women—but that's another branch of education.

Mr. Washkowsky went to the cobbler and found his shoes, but not the money, which we cannot but feel is not remarkable. We hope he will find it, but he hasn't yet, which again should cause no astonishment.

But what we would like to hear from the American Bankers Association is what steps it is taking to discourage people of magpie habits from keeping their money in shoes, shoes, mantle clocks, behind wall pictures, under floor boards and similar places. We have made no exact calculation, but from casual evidence we are inclined to believe there are enough funds hidden away in such places in this enlightened and progressive country to pay off the national debt. Not that we advise paying it off, because that would leave congress nothing to fuss with Mr. Mellon about; but if deposited in banks our banker might have some to lend when we need it, which he now never has; he says money is very scarce. We hold it is not; it is merely in Mr. Washkowsky's shoe.

Seeing that we have been pursuing education, or something called that, for several centuries, we cannot but feel this is a bad showing and that the bankers association is somehow responsible. It hasn't sufficiently impressed on the people that it has banks and what they are for. Mr. Washkowsky hasn't heard. And there are a lot of him in this country.—Kansas City Star.

ANTIOCH TO MEET OLD RIVAL IN FIRST TOURNAMENT GAME

Pairings Show Antioch Is To Meet Warren In Opener.

Announcement was made today of the pairings for the district basketball tournament which will be held in the Waukegan high school gym on March 8, 9, and 10. The lineup shows that Antioch will meet her old rival, Warren high of Gurnee, in the first tournament game. If she wins from Warren, the schedule will probably place Waukegan to be played for the second game. In event of victory over these two teams then Antioch will buck up against New Trier of Winnetka, one of the strongest teams in this district.

Because of the odd number of teams entered, with Deerfield Shields failing to take part apparently because of a rather unsuccessful season, the drawings are badly grabbed with Libertyville and Waukegan drawing a bye in the first round and the winners in the lower bracket drawing a bye in the third round.

The following is the list of games in the order in which they occur.

No. 1, Antioch vs. Gurnee, Thursday, 7:30.

No. 2, Waukegan vs. New Trier, Thursday 5:30.

No. 3, Palatine vs. Arlington Heights, Friday, 3:00 p. m.

No. 4, Maine vs. Evanston, Friday, 4:00 p. m.

No. 5, Waukegan vs. winner of Antioch-Gurnee Game, Friday, 7:30.

No. 6, Libertyville vs. winner of Waukegan-New Trier game, Friday, 8:30.

No. 7, winner of Maine-Evanston vs. winner of Palatine-Arlington Heights on Saturday, 2 p. m.

No. 8, winner of game 6 vs. winner of game 7, Saturday at 3 p. m.

Consolation game for third place in the tournament between losers of game 7 and 8 will be played at 7:30 Saturday night with the championship game between the winners of game 7 and 8 at 8:30 Saturday night.

Sentimental Power

Sentiment is about the most powerful thing in the world. Timber experts say it is poor policy to teach children to plant a tree on Arbor day and let them put a tree in the house on Christmas day. True enough—reforestation and Christmas don't work well together. But so long as there is still sweetness and love light in the human heart Christmas will win. There are some things that rise above all practical consideration.—Mobile Register.

Famous Spanish Palace

Escorial, or Escorial, is the name of the palace of the king of Spain. It is situated among the hills, 50 miles northwest of Madrid, the Spanish capital. In its wind swept situation it has an austere appearance. It was built by Philip II, the king who sent the Armada against England, and who cruelly persecuted the people of Holland.

Coinage Protection

It is a crime punishable by a fine of not more than $200 and five years' imprisonment for the mutilation of silver or gold coins, and a crime punishable by a fine of not more than $100 and six months' imprisonment for mutilating national bank notes.

Tax Paid by Smokers

The internal revenue taxes collected in North Carolina are very large because taxes on tobacco are collected at the factories rather than from retailers. Since the price of the revenue stamps is eventually paid by the smoker of the tobacco, people all over the world contribute to the internal revenue receipts of North Carolina.

Indians Had Maple Sugar

The Indians were adept at maple sugar making before the coming of the white man. In fact, the whites learned of maple sugar from the Indians and imitated their process of tapping trees and boiling down the sap. The aborigines of America made both sirup and cake sugar of the most delicious kind. Such sugar was an object of barter among them.—Pathfinder Magazine.

CORRECTION

It was stated in the Lake Villa items of last week's issue of the News that a party was given for Mrs. Arthur Simpson of Cedar Crest farm by the Bunco club. It should have stated that a theatre party was given by a few of her friends on the evening of February 16. We are glad to correct this error.
